

ROMERO MAKES BOL CAPTURE OF BAD DESPERADO

Single Handed Las Vegas
Man Takes Outlaw.

VARELA WAS ARMED WITH A WINCHESTER

Las Vegas, N. M., Oct. 30.—Single-handed yesterday morning at his ranch at Las Conchas, District Clerk Secundino Romero, mayor of Las Vegas, captured the fugitive escaped convict, Romaldo Varela, who was armed with a Winchester and more than willing to use it. Mr. Romero arrived today with his prisoner, who was taken back to the penitentiary tonight.

Romero, who owns the Casa Grande sheep ranch, had gone out to spend a few days. He was walking out his front door when he met Varela coming in. Romero jumped to the bed where his gun was lying, and Varela thinking he was going out the back door started to intercept him, cocking and leveling his rifle. But Romero came to his senses, he cocked and grabbed the convict's Winchester in his left hand. The convict attempted to draw a revolver with his right hand, but Romero was too quick for him and disarmed and captured him. Varela was sent to the Colorado state penitentiary twice, once for stock stealing, and once for assault with attempt to kill. He was sentenced from Las Vegas for two and one-half years for burglary and escaped last June after he had served a month. Several times during the past three months Varela has been seen at night in company with a band of mounted men, of which he is said to have been leader. The band has held up wayfarers, stolen stock and created almost a reign of terror in the outlying districts.

Two of the band were captured a couple of weeks ago. The sheriff, brother to Mr. Romero, learned of the hiding place of the band and Friday night stationed his men for a raid. Varela escaped and confessed to be making for the Texas border.

New Gas Franchise.
The proposed franchise for the new Las Vegas Gas company was made public today. The plant is to cost $75,000, to be begun within four months and completed within a year. Eight miles of mains will be laid. The company binds itself to furnish gas of a first rate quality for a maximum charge of $1.50 per heating and $2.00 for lighting purposes. The coal is to be secured from Trinidad.

UNCLE JOSH AT ELKS' THEATER TONIGHT

POPULAR OLD RURAL PLAY
PROMISES TO DRAW BIG CROWD.

"Uncle Josh Spruceby," the first of the many rural plays now being presented in the different cities, will be seen at Elks' theater tonight. This production is said to be different from all others, as it contains much comedy as well as pathos, and the realistic sawmill scene is said to be the most exciting and intense effect ever produced. The scenes of the play are laid in Vermont and New York, which gives ample opportunity for portraying the simple rustic characters in country as well as the many incidents that befall the simple country folks that visit the metropolis. The company reached Albuquerque yesterday.

"The Chaperons" Tomorrow Night.
The company that will present Isidore Witmark's comedy-opera, "The Chaperons," at Elks' opera house tomorrow night, is said to be one of the best singing organizations in America. It is under the auspices of Isidore Witmark, of the famous music publishing family. Mr. Witmark is noted as one of the most lavish and liberal of all the producers in this country. Before "The Chaperons" made its advent, Mr. Witmark laid out the entire scenic and costume scheme of the piece, with the result that Joseph Physiole, the scenic artist developed two stage pictures that are marvels of beauty and spectacular effect, while the costume sketches which came from the celebrated poster artist, Archie Gunn, and which were faithfully duplicated by Mr. Witmark's wardrobe department, are most stunning examples of the modiste's art. But it is in the organization of the company where Mr. Witmark's musical taste shows most plainly. The first qualification demanded in a member of the company has been voice, histrionic ability and an absolutely necessary, were so to speak, secondary considerations. Naturally it has been difficult to organize a company of comedians who could sing, and it is perhaps not necessary to say that all young women with good voices are not pretty, but Mr. Witmark succeeded, and it is his boast that every young woman in the company is pretty. The company presenting this piece is the most complete with a complete new set of scenery and costumes.

GREATEST FIGHT FILMS EVER SEEN—BRITT-NELSON CONTEST
The first fight films ever seen in America—of any size or actual pretensions—represented a bout between Young Griffo, the once-famous Australian, and Walter Campbell of Pittsburgh. Only enough, these films were handled in the west by Jack Donnalio, now handling the Britt-Nelson pictures. They were hurried, indistinct at intervals, and then bared to see and heard upon the eyes. People who saw these old pictures—which were exhibited in 1896, and who have seen the Britt-Nelson films have much to say concerning the marvelous advance in this branch of photography. Every picture in the older pictures is missing from the new, while the Britt-Nelson pictures have a clearness and beauty which was not deemed obtainable in the past. It was generally believed at the time the Griffo-Campbell films came out, that the science of moving pictures would always remain more or less in its infancy, and that it would be wholly possible to do away with burlesque. The Britt-Nelson pictures are a revelation, and show that science conquers every obstacle.

J. W. Croft, president of the Colma (Cal.), Athletic club, where the fight occurred, is the owner of the copyrighted films.

THE SORROWFUL TALE OF SOME SUCKERS

BEING THE FAITHFUL NARRATIVE

WISE GUY FROM KANSAS.

In case you should meet anyone of these well known young society men on the street today, ask when he severed connection with the Amalgamated Order of Snipe Hunters.

Ask him if he is acquainted with a young man named Sullivan, William Sullivan, a Wise Guy from the state of Kansas, who has an inter-state reputation as a snipe hunter himself, and who has had some recent experience with suckers.

The Snipe Hunting society may not give you a civil answer, and it is just possible that they may be rude to you, but for all of the young men are tired. They had a long ride last night, and most of them had a long walk, some of it through mud and the rest through weeds, and walks of this kind are calculated to make him sore.

Now it came about in this wise. Last night was Halloween and the Society of Snipe Hunters, flushed with many victories, decided that they must have a little sport in order to fly celebrate the ghastly evening. They looked around for game, and what should their eyes meet but the form of Mr. William Sullivan, of Kansas, an employee of the Harvey system. Sullivan looked easy. He looked like he was just off the tree and his patent leather boots looked right for a walk through the mire of the Rio Grande. They proposed, the society's representatives, did that he join the society in a hunt for snipe. Mr. Sullivan was politely curious. He wanted to know how they did it, where they went and how much it cost. The society proceeded to reveal to him the time-honored fable of how the snipe will come to the lighted candle when you whistle, and how all that is necessary is to hold the sack open.

Sullivan grew enthusiastic, he wanted to go right away and no delay would suit him. The society was pleased. It rented a wagon, and at eight o'clock called for Mr. Sullivan at the Alvarado. The wagon proceeded to the Barajas bridge, where the party gathered and walked for a mile and a half through the brush and mire into the willow thickets on the west side of the river. There they lighted the candle, handed Mr. Sullivan the sack and left him whistling expectantly, while they wandered into the distance answering his calls.

Just as the snipe hunters faded into the dusk, Mr. Sullivan still whistling, placed the candle on a stump, laid the sack and walked ten feet to a thicket where two of his friends were waiting in a buggy. He got in and drove rapidly across the river and to the corner of Railroad avenue and Second street. It is clear and with the dust brushed off his shoes, waited for the triumphant society to come in.

The society drove into town excited and jubilant. They did not forget to stop at the Morning Journal and leave their victim's name, then they went on down to the corner of Railroad avenue and Second street. The society met Mr. Sullivan on the corner smoking a large cigar, smilingly interested in the result of the hunt. The society went home. It is probable that most of the members will sleep late this morning.

THE DOCTOR

Prescribed Vinol for the Son of a Prominent Clothier.

Mr. Leo G. Heilbrun, of Decatur, Ill., writes: "It is a pleasure for me to endorse Vinol after what it has done for my son Robert. He was in a delicate condition and had no appetite. Our physician suggested Vinol, and it has proved highly beneficial, building up his strength, increasing his flesh and improving his health generally."

HERBERT HEILBRUN.

A member of the firm of J. H. O'Reilly & Co., Drugists, says: "There is nothing like Vinol for growing children. It makes new vitality, sound flesh and muscle tissue, and rich, red, pure blood, and many letters have been received from grateful fathers and mothers whose children owe their health, and even life, to Vinol."

"The reason Vinol is so far superior to all other tonics and cod liver oil preparations for children is because it contains, in a concentrated form, all of the strengthening, body-building elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of oil or grease, and it does not upset their weak, delicate stomachs like old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, but is easily assimilated, and is so delicious that children all love it."

Continuing he said: "We cannot recommend Vinol too highly for puny, weak and ailing children, to build up the run-down, overworked, tired and debilitated, or to give renewed vitality to the aged. So sure are we of it that we would refund the money in every case where it fails." J. H. O'Reilly & Co., Drugists.

Death at Military Institute.
Mexico Johnson, aged 14 years, a student at the New Mexico Military Institute, died at the Institute hospital at 4 o'clock this morning, says the Roswell Record. His death was caused by apoplexy and was sudden and unexpected. He took sick last night at 9 o'clock and the end came in seven hours. The boy was the picture of health yesterday. He was tall and weighed about 175 pounds. However, he had always been troubled with poor capillary circulation, to the extent that when bruised the blood invariably clotted badly about the injured spot. This explains his sudden death by apoplexy. Two weeks ago the boy sprained his ankle and had been laid up with the injury, but that had nothing to do with causing his death. The deceased was a nephew of W. A. Johnson, of the Roswell Hardware company, of this city. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bond W. Johnson, of Clarendon, Tex., and besides these relatives he leaves three sisters. He is the last of six sons in his father's family to die.

CONSTIPATION

"For over nine years I suffered with chronic constipation and during this time I had to take an injection of warm water once every 24 hours before I could have an action on my bowels. Happily I tried Cascarets, and today I am a well man. During the nine years before I used Cascarets I suffered untold misery with internal piles. Thanks to you I am free from all that this morning. You can see this in my letter of suffering humbly."
